

Hong Kong Society for Hand Therapy Pre-Symposium Workshop

Professor Joan E. EDELSTEIN

“From Injury to Integration: Rehabilitation of Adults with Upper Limb Amputation from Acute Trauma to Societal Integration”

Date: 18 March 2010 9:00 am – 5:00 pm

Venue: Room ST 522-523, Hong Kong Polytechnic University

Professor Joan has been the Special Lecturer for the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University and the New York University School of Medicine, New York since 2002. She has been an experienced Educator and Consultant of the academic programs in all phases of prosthetics, orthotics, kinesiology, geriatrics, normal and pathological gaits when she started her work in her specialties since 1960’s. She is the Fellow of the International Society for Prosthetics and Orthotics since 1973 and the author of numerous books, chapters and periodicals on rehabilitation of amputees.

In her coming workshop, Professor Joan will have detailed sharing with us, including the following topics:

- Management of the UL Amputee – from Pre-operative to Later Stages
- Amputation Limb Classifications and Determinations in Choices of Prosthesis
- Documentation of Functional Outcomes
- Societal Integration after Rehabilitation

CPD pending

Deadline of Application: 5 March 2010

Please visit our web site www.hksht.org for further information. You may also contact Ms. Winnie Fok on 2468 5233 for further enquiry.

香港義肢矯形師學會
Hong Kong Society of Certified Prosthetist-Orthotists

康復治療科學系
Department of Rehabilitation Sciences

